When you can physically see and sense what you are doing, energy healing is easily mastered.

Energy Medicine is specially designed using a combination of subtle energy trainings and advanced sound and imaging technologies to improve your ability to sense energy fields, demonstrate how readily you can access guidance from higher sources and amplify/expand your energy fields.

Everyone has an innate ability to heal themselves and others, but for most people, it remains limited and unrealized.  This course is specifically designed to introduce you to:

- A combination of subtle energy techniques

- Advanced sound and imaging technologies
- The “science behind it”
- Activities to demonstrate just how powerful you are.

Biofield Imaging technologies are introduced to provide a better understanding of how instantly you can expand your energy field enormously at will. The Biofield Viewer enables you to physically see healthy and unhealthy energy patterns and the direct effects of different healing therapies and modalities, which will be demonstrated during the program. This includes the energy fields of people, crystals as well as the interaction of crystal energy on human and animal energy fields!

Learn five energy medicine tools, which when combined together can be most effective, such as Monroe Audio Report, biofield imaging and other energy healing modalities. To enhance your experience, you will experience energy sensing exercises.
